THE CITY OF MAINZ

... THE „LITTLE BIG CITY“ BY THE RIVER RHINE. The city of Mainz is home to around 200,000 residents and located at the heart of the Frankfurt Rhine-Main Metropolitan Region. Frankfurt Airport and the cities of Wiesbaden, Darmstadt and Frankfurt are all located in close proximity to Mainz and can be easily reached by bus and train.

... THE CITY OF WINE.

Wine growing has been a tradition in Mainz and the surrounding Rhine-Hesse region for many years. The region is characterised by its vineyards, and wine taverns form an integral part of the old city centre. Since 2008, Mainz and Rheinhessen are part of the network “Great Wine Capitals”

... THE CITY OF JESTERS.

Fastnacht is the highlight of the German Carnival celebrations. Even schools and the university are closed for the day as the entire city of Mainz comes together to dance in the streets during the Rosenmontag parade.

... A CITY OF FESTIVALS AND MARKETS.

The people of Mainz always find a reason to celebrate or to socialise in a friendly and relaxed atmosphere, be it breakfast at the farmers’ market, the annual Johannisnacht celebrations, the wine festival or one of the city’s many open-air concerts and festivals held in the summer.

... THE CITY OF MEDIA.

The city in which Johannes Gutenberg once invented letterpress printing with movable type printing and the printing press, is now home to establishments such as the headquarters of the German television broadcaster ZDF.

... A CITY BY THE RIVER.

The river Rhine is like a small sea for Mainz and is the ideal location for barbecues on the river banks or bathing on the small hidden city beach. It is also synonymous with Mainz as a dynamic city full of movement.

... THE CATHEDRAL CITY.

The 1000-year-old cathedral building is the landmark of our city and can be seen from far away. Mainz is the only city outside of Rome to be home to a „Holy See“, the sancta sedes Moguntia.

... THE CITY OF FOOTBALL.

The football club 1. FSV Mainz 05 has now been playing in the German premier league, the 1. Bundesliga, for several years. A visit to the club's stadium is an absolute must, not only when Bayern Munich is the opponent.

... THE UNIVERSITY CITY.

Mainz is characterised by the multitude of students who live in the city. Alongside Johannes Gutenberg University, it is also home to Mainz University of Applied Sciences, the Catholic University of Applied Sciences of Mainz and the Peter Cornelius Conservatory.

JOHANNES GUTENBERG UNIVERSITY
MAINZ

The University of Mainz was founded in the year 1477. In 1946, it was named after the most famous son of the city of Mainz: Johannes Gutenberg, who invented letterpress printing with movable type printing and the printing press.

Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz (JGU) today is one of the largest universities in Germany and is home to around 35,000 students. It is the only German university of its size to unite nearly all of its departments on one campus, which is located in close proximity to Mainz city centre.

This campus provides students with a place to study, research and live. Alongside academic institutions, it also contains student accommodation, childcare facilities, and even restaurants and cafés. Our Faculty of Translation Studies, Linguistics and Cultural Studies is located in the German town of Gernersheim, which is 100 km upriver from the main campus.

LIVING IN MAINZ

LIVING AND FEELING AT HOME IN MAINZ

We want you to feel ‚right at home‘ while studying in Mainz! In order to enable Mainz to become your ‚home away from home‘, Student Services (Studierendenwerk) and the SIS Office (Service International Students (<http://sis-mainz.de/>)) in particular offer a large number of services relating to the topic of living and feeling at home in Mainz.

Student Services provides students with a wide range of different types of rooms in the numerous housing complexes located both on campus and in the city of Mainz. All rooms are furnished, regardless of whether they are individual rooms or located in shared houses („WG-Zimmer“). Thanks to the SIS Pack, which is available at for a small charge, you can even move to the city without having to bring any pots, pans, plates, duvets, etc.!

A special service: all foreign students who apply in good time are guaranteed a place in halls of residence, regardless of whether you want to attend the university for a semester or an entire degree course!

PRIVILEGES AND BENEFITS FOR STUDENTS IN MAINZ

No tuition fees!

Special rates for contracts, memberships and subscriptions, e.g. for health insurance, telephone and Internet, gyms and newspaper subscriptions

Student discounts with your student ID card, e.g. for Mainz 05 football tickets or tickets for the Staatstheater Mainz (theatre)

Stay mobile in the region with the semester ticket for bus and train travel

Low-priced food on campus
(at the Mensa and cafeteria)

Free computer and Internet access (incl. printing and scanners) on campus and in halls of residence

A wide range of (mostly) free sports activities available from the Allgemeiner Hochschulsport (university sports association)

Affordable accommodation in student halls of residence

Living in halls of residence is often the cheapest option when it comes to finding university accommodation. It also gives you the opportunity to immediately get to know many other students and, for example, to make the most of free Internet access. Alongside the halls of residence available from the Student Services, private landlords and church organisations also offer accommodation in halls of residence all over Mainz and in its suburbs.

Would you prefer to look for your room on your own? If so, please bear in mind that most rooms available for rent in Germany are not furnished and are often more expensive than rooms in halls of residence. The best place to search for available accommodation is on the various search engines available online or, if you are already in Mainz, on the noticeboards in the university buildings.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST TO STUDY IN MAINZ?

Of course, the total cost of studying in Mainz depends on how you want to spend your time at our university but you should generally calculate approx. 700 euros per month to cover your semester fee, rent, food, clothes, other expenses, and health insurance. When you arrive, however, you should bring more than this amount because you will need to pay your semester fee, first month's rent and deposit immediately, as well as possibly needing to make other initial purchases.

MOBILE IN MAINZ? OF COURSE!

Mainz is a small urban city in which you can travel from A to B quickly and without any problems. You don't even need a car, thanks to the public transport connections available throughout the city.

As soon as you enrol as a student at JGU, you will automatically receive your semester ticket. This ticket is always valid for a period of six months, from April to September and from October to March. It can not only be used in the city of Mainz, but also throughout the entire Rhine-Main region, thus enabling you to travel to towns and cities such as Wiesbaden, Frankfurt am Main, Koblenz, Darmstadt, Limburg or Worms. The ticket is valid for travel in all regional trains, city and regional buses, suburban trains (S-Bahn), underground trains (U-Bahn) and trams. It cannot, however, be used for journeys on long-distance trains (IC, ICE, EC...).

If you'd rather keep fit while travelling in the city, you can use the „MVG MeinRad“ bike hire service in Mainz at a special discounted student rate or buy a second-hand bike. There are cycle paths virtually everywhere and you can normally reach your destination quicker when travelling by bike than by bus and tram.

SERVICES AND ACTIVITIES FOR NEW STUDENTS

A new university? A new city? A new country? The first thing that you need to do is to find your feet, regardless of whether you are from Germany or abroad. Alongside an abundance of information online, JGU offers all new German and international students a wide range of services to make the start of their university studies in Mainz as easy as possible. Before the beginning of each semester, for example, important interdisciplinary introductory events are held to get you off to a good start in Mainz.

Are you an exchange student or completing the Erasmus programme?

If so, the InfoDays are the ideal events for you.

Do you want to complete a degree in Mainz?

If so, come to the Orientation Days.

Would you also like to find out about Mainz and its surroundings and get to know other new German and international students?

If so, be sure to make the most of the Mix Tour.

INFODAYS

The Info Days help all exchange students to get their bearings at the university. They give you the opportunity to familiarise yourself with the campus and help you to prepare your documents for matriculation. The events also provide you with support when searching for contacts in your subject areas and putting together your class schedule,... and of course when dealing with the essential activity of activating your ZDV account and Internet access.

ORIENTATION DAYS

Do you want to complete a degree at JGU? If so, the Orientation Days will help you to get off to the perfect start. They not only give you the opportunity to get to know the campus and a large number of contacts for international students, but also ensure that you know how to use module guides and can find your bearings in the JOGU-StiNe network. Who knows, maybe they will also introduce you to your first friends at the university?

THE MIX TOUR

As its name suggests, this tour aims to give all new students arriving in Mainz the opportunity to ‚mix‘ ;-). By going ‚on tour‘ over a period of two to three days in the area around Mainz, you are sure to have the chance to get to know friendly fellow students who will make it easier for you to master your day-to-day life as a student. The Mix Tour is a joint event organised by the International Office, the Student Services and AEGEE.

INTRODUCTORY WEEK FOR NEW STUDENTS

The „Einführungswoche“ (Introductory Week) is held for all new students during the week before the official start of the lecture period. During the week, the university’s individual departments will inform you about your subject of study and help you with tasks such as selecting your courses by providing you with support from course advisers and student councils. The student councils also organise pub evenings and other leisure activities.

At JGU you can also obtain a double degree or a joint degree in one of our integrated courses:

and
www.studium.uni-mainz.de/internationale-masterstudiengaenge

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

ACADEMIC CALENDER

At JGU, the academic year is divided into the Winter Semester (1st October to 31st March) and the Summer Semester (1st April to 30th September).

The lecture period always runs from mid-October to mid-February (Winter Semester) and mid-April to mid-July (Summer Semester). No lectures or courses are held in the time between these periods (the so-called semester holidays), on national or regional public holidays, at Christmas and on Rosenmontag (Fastnacht).

APPLICATION

Depending on the subject and/or course of studies that you want to apply for at JGU through the JOGU-StIne online portal, different application deadlines apply between May and September for the Winter Semester and between November and March for the Summer Semester. Most courses of study can be started in both semesters and only a select few start solely in the Winter Semester.

If you want to complete a degree in Mainz, you first need to send us your school leaving certificates for approval before you can apply. Exchange students do not need to have their certificates approved.

There are special rules for students in an international integrated course. Your home university or the relevant office at JGU has the necessary information.

LECTURES AND COURSES

Courses take place during the lecture period. You can find the online course catalogue on the platform JOGU-StlNe (no login required; select: „Course Catalogue“ and then choose your semester, department, and subject).

<https://jogustine.uni-mainz.de/>

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

At JGU, you are awarded ECTS (European Credit Transfer System) points for all courses. In most courses, you need to sit an examination in order to receive these ECTS points and a grade, but there are also some courses in which you receive ECTS points for participation and do not need to sit an examination.

Course examinations normally take place at the end of the lecture period.

The university does not, however, have a general examination period. Each subject individually decides when and how examinations are held – either during the course, at the end of the lecture period or in the lecture-free period. Examinations are held as written tests, e-tests, presentations, papers or oral examinations.

The best grade available in Germany is 1.0.
You need to achieve a grade of at least 4.0
in order to pass an examination.

GERMAN SKILLS AND GERMAN COURSES

Degree-seeking students:

If you want to complete a degree in Mainz, almost all courses (with the exception of a small number of degree courses such as those held completely in English) require you to pass the DSH-2 or DSH-3 language proficiency test required for entry to a German university as a foreign student or a German examination recognised as an equivalent.
