

Poland Fellowship at JGU

Summer Semester 2024 and Winter Semester 2024/25

Program Description

The fellowship is aimed at researchers from Poland who would like to teach or conduct research at JGU for a period of a whole or half semester. In addition to research and the promotion of scholarly cooperation, recipients of the fellowship will teach courses at their respective department at JGU. The fellowship aims to strengthen academic relations between Germany and Poland and promote JGU's cooperation with Polish universities.

This call is addressed to all university professors in Mainz interested in inviting their Polish counterparts to JGU for a visiting professorship and integrating them into teaching and research on site. The Polish partners should be qualified scientists and scholars with at least postdoc level qualifications and a permanent position at a Polish university. Their main place of residence must be outside of Germany.

Funding

6.000 € for short-term lectureships (half of the lecture period)
12.000 € for long-term lectureships (full lecture period)

Application Process and Deadlines

The fellowships are advertised for the summer semester 2024 and the winter semester 2024/25.

Applications are to be submitted by Mainz university professors via their faculty's dean to the Poland Fellowships/International Office, in house, by October 13, 2023. Applications should include the candidate's CV and list of publications, an explanation of how the candidate's presence will benefit JGU, and information on their sponsor at JGU.

Direct applications by candidates are not possible.
